WILLIAM DEANE Coach-maker, INFORMS the public in general and his customers in particular, that he carries on his business as usual in Broad-street—where he makes all sorts of coaches, landaus, phaetons, curricles, chairs and chaises; likewise all sorts of harness and saddles work, as also painting, gilding and japanning in the neatest and most elegant manner.—And as he finishes all carriages whatever in his own shop without applying to any other.—He is likewise determined to make them as good, sell them as cheap, and be as expeditious as there is a possibility.—And to convince the public of the truth of what he asserts, he will make any piece of work that is required equal to any imported from England, and will sell it at the prime cost of that imported, by which means those who are pleas'd to favour him with their custom will save the freight, insurance, and the expenses naturally attending in putting the carriages to rights after they arrive.—And as a further inducement, he will engage his work for a year after it is delivered, that is, if any part gives way or fails by fair usage, he will make it good at his own expense. These advantages cannot be obtained on carriages imported. He has now a considerable stock of the best of all materials fit for making carriages.—For the above reasons, he most heartily requests the encouragement of the public, which will be most gratefully acknowledged by him.

Said DEANE paints and repairs all manner of old, worn very reasonably, and has for sale just finished, a new phaeton, and four new chairs, 36 37

D R E S D E N, March 16.

ACCORDING to letters from Poland, the general Confederacy have published an Universal, by which it is ordained, that every tenth peasant shall be constrained to inlist into their troops.

L O N D O N,

March 14. The Miss Grimes, to whom Lord

Ligonier is to be married immediately on his divorce, is not a daughter of General Grime, lately Secretary to the Queen, but a young lady of a different family, much admired for her personal and highly esteemed for her mental perfections.

March 17. Advices are received from Lisbon, that one of the Portuguese Ministers is disgraced, and that a total change in the Ministry is expected to take place there daily.

A private letter from Paris, received yesterday evening, says, that the French King intends to renew certain claims on the Genoese for large sums, to defray which, would require more than half the territories of the Republic are worth.

They write from Amsterdam that upwards of two hundred ships are now sitting out in the different parts of Holland for the Greenland whale fishery this year.

They write from Bress, that two French men of war, one of seventy and the other of sixty-four guns are both lost, together with their crews, in the Gulf of Florida.

Extract of a letter from the Countess of M——, now residing at Paris, to her friends in Scotland.

A number of people of rank and fashion in this capital have been missing from time to time; some of them were found in the river, from which it was concluded that they had made away with themselves. However, one night, as a gentleman was walking along the streets, he was accosted, as he imagined, by a woman of the town. Having articles with her, she conducted him to her lodgings. Entering the outer door, she locked it, and put the key in her pocket; after which she led him through several entries, using the same ceremony at each. Arriving at last at her chamber, she left him, on purpose to fetch some wine or other cordial.
In her absence he began to reconnoitre the room, and peeping into a closet he spied two dead men, whom he supposed had been newly deprived of life. You may imagine what his feelings were on such an occasion; whatever they were, they did not bereave him of a notable presence of mind, which suggested to him the only expedient that, in all probability, could have saved him: At her return he told her that he thought a small collation would be proper for him before he went to bed, for that he stood much in need of something to eat; and, if she pleased, he would go to a neighbouring tavern, and give orders concerning it. She opposed his going; he still insisted, and added, that she need not be afraid of his leaving her. To convince her he had no such intention, he would let his watch and purse remain until his return; and throwing them on the table, she permitted him to walk off. He soon returned, with a party of men; and upon searching the house, two ruffians were found in arms, hid in a large chest, who being apprehended, and put to the torture, confessed that they had robbed and murdered all those that were missing; that the two who were found in the closet, were so lately murdered that they had not time to conceal them, and that the gentleman that made the discovery, would also have been made away with, if he had staid a few minutes longer in the house.

March 28. The board of trade have recommended Mr. L. de St. Pierre to the Lords of the treasury, as a proper object of their encouragement, in return for that gentleman's having introduced the culture of vines, and the making of silk, at his settlement of New Bourdeaux, in South-Carolina, which, it is not doubted, will be of the utmost benefit to this nation.

March 30. Hyder Ali, after the decisive battle against him of last year, shut himself up in a Sarengapatnam, where he is closely besieged by the Mahrattas.

The Emperor, Shaw Allum, disgusted at the impolitic tyranny of the East-India company, has thrown himself into the hands of the Mahrattas, who has actually raised him to the throne of Delhi.

The use to which the Mahrattas wish to turn the Emperor, is to give them a Firman for the three provinces of Bengal, Bihar and Orissa. So that, under the colour of a grant, the company will be found to be attacked, by the next advent.

Sujah Dowla has sent an embassy to Calcutta, soliciting an offensive and defensive league with the company, which, in the present situation of affairs, will not probably be refused.

It is certain that the surplus, in favour of the company at Madras, is only 50,000 l. per annum, and that settlement costs us the lives of 1000 British subjects a year; so that we give away British subjects for 50 s. a head.

The vigour which Maderwa, the chief of the Mahrattas, at present exhibits in his operations in all quarters of the Empire, seems to promise suddenly to his nation the sovereignty of Indostan. If therefore Hyder Ali, our only barrier, is destroyed, we have only 300,000 horse to contend with, to oppose their devastations, and defend, even on the coast, a frontier of 1500 miles in length. Bengal is more safe, from its situation; though Shaw Allum is now, by the aid of the Mahrattas, placed on the throne of Delhi.

The last advices left the Emperor within a few miles of the capital of his ancestors; and one may form an idea of the power of the Mahrattas, from their settling a prince on the throne of Delhi, and besieging Hyder Ali in his principal city, whilst all the intermediate country is their own.

Hyder Ali was on the brink of total ruin in his last action. He was surrounded by the enemy; he lost all his Europeans, and army, and narrowly escaped himself with his life. Yet, in the midst of his distress he has not lost his spirits. His letters to the presidency of Madras are in the file of an independent Emperor.

There is nothing more certain, than that for every 100 s. imported by the East-India company into this country, either as a society, or by their servants, a human creature is destroyed by oppression and famine, in our acquisitions in Bengal. A tale horrid to relate!

A correspondent desires us to inform the public, in favour of a certain company, that none of their servants are the actual executioners of the millions destroyed in India, but by permitting, by commanding, they are accessory to the crime.

March 31. Their is advices from Copenhagen, that the Dey of Algiers, in consideration of a magnificent present, has concluded a treaty with that court, and has given orders for all the Danish subjects at present imprisoned in his territories to be immediately released. The vessels lately confiscated are also to be delivered up.

Letters from Riga mention, that 15 large transports were loading there with timber, iron, cables and cannon, for Carthage.

Advice is received from Gibraltar, that the garrison there is in great want of all sorts of provisions; that the Governor sent to the Emperor of Morocco, requesting he would trade with the English for live cattle and other provisions; which was absolutely refused, on account that the usual presents have not been sent him; upon which the men of war assisted them with some of their provisions, which, it is hoped, will last till fresh ships arrive from America, who are hourly expected.

Extract of a letter from Holland.
"I am greatly grieved for the poor Queen of Denmark. Poor lady! she has had measure from that diabolical Queen Dowager, who has got all the power into her hands; has in effect dethroned the King, and is making hasty strides to place her own son on the throne. I do not suppose the present King of Denmark, or his son, will be long lived. They may die suddenly, of a violent fever, an apoplexy, palsy, or any thing but poison; and, depend upon it, if the poor innocent imprisoned Queen is permitted to live, it will be owing, under God, more to the dread of English vengeance, than to any other cause. Pray God send her speedily safe to your side the water, for she can hardly be said to be safe while in Denmark. I hope soon to hear of a fleet sailing from Spithead to the Sound. Should this be the case, and they carry any land troops, they would be joined by the majority of the Danish troops and nation, who are highly disgusted with the late alarming change, notwithstanding all that the court now in power there, or prostitute hireling clergymen, may say and declare to the contrary."

Westminster, April 1. This day his Majesty came to the house of peers, and being in his royal robes, seated on the throne, with the usual solemnity, Mr. Quarme, yeoman, usher of the black rod, was sent with a message from his Majesty to the house of commons, commanding their attendance in the house of peers: The commons being come thither accordingly, his Majesty was pleased to give the royal assent to,

An Act for the better regulating the future marriages of the royal family.

An act for explaining and amending an act made in the seventh year of his present Majesty's reign, entitled, An act for taking off the inland duty of one shilling per pound weight upon all black and single teas consumed in Great-Britain, and for granting a drawback upon the exportation of teas to Ireland, and the British dominions in America, for a limited time, upon such indemnification to be made in respect thereof by the East-India company, as therein mentioned, for permitting the exportation of teas and smaller quantities than one lot to Ireland, or the said dominions in America, and for preventing teas seized and condemned from being consumed in Great-Britain; and for settling certain doubts and disputes which have arisen upon the said act of parliament; and to twenty other publick and forty-three private bills.

April 3. They write from Jamaica, that the Spaniards have got at the Havana, 17 sail of men of war of the line, completely manned, besides Frigates and other armed vessels.

By a letter from Copenhagen, dated March 9, there is advice, that the commissioners who have the charge of enquiring into the facts laid against the state prisoners, have examined all the letters and papers delivered to them, but have found none that affect the Queen in the least, and that it is believed she is innocent of every charge alledged against her; as to the rest of the state prisoners it is imagined, that their principal crime consists in opposing the Queen Dowager in her plans. The letters add, that the weather has been more severe there than has been known for many years; that the sea is full of ice, and it is believed it will not be clear till the latter end of April or beginning of May.

April 4. A correspondent observes, it is somewhat remarkable, that the royal assent should be given to the marriage act on the first of April, of all days in the year, as if it was to shew that there are more April fools in the world besides Squire Morgan.

Extract of a letter from Hamburg, March 27.

"We have three posts due from Sweden, and two from Denmark, owing to the Great and Little Belt being frozen, so as to render the passage not only difficult but dangerous; however, we are informed by good authority, that the Danish ministry is not a little embarrassed to find out how to satisfy Col. Keith, the British minister at Copenhagen, who has demanded a categorical answer in the name of the King, his master, concerning the fate of the Queen. It is said that the King of Denmark will soon go to Holstein, and that during his absence, the Counts De Struensee, and De Brandt, will be executed; the other prisoners it is thought will be set at liberty, there not being sufficient proofs against them to affect their lives."

April 5. Last week some gentlemen of fortune arrived in town from Guernsey, to solicit the grant of certain tracts of lands on the Banks of the Mississippi, in North-America, with an intention to be settled with the French Protestant families from Normandy.

Extract of a letter from Belfast in the North of Ireland, by way of Port Patrick, March 24.

"Yesterday in the afternoon, about half past three o'clock, the 62d regiment of foot, and five companies of highlanders, came up with a party of about 2000 of the Hearts of Oak, &c. who are entirely composed of disbanded soldiers, and the militia that so bravely distinguished themselves in Thurot's invasion in 1760, when a general engagement immediately ensued, in which the regulars were obliged to retire with the following loss, viz. 62d regiment, killed 7 Captains, 2 Lieutenants, 2 Ensigns, and 100 rank and file. Wounded 2 Captains, 1 Lieutenant, and 147 rank and file. Highlanders, killed a Captain, 3 Lieutenants, 1 Ensign, and 60 rank and file. Wounded 2 Lieutenants, 3 Ensigns, and 84 rank and file. Killed, wounded, and prisoners of the insurgents, 500."

B O S T O N, May 28.
Monday morning 3 o'clock. We have this moment been informed, that last Saturday Captain Hooper arrived at Marblehead from Falmouth, who brought two English prints, of the 4th and 7th of April, which we hear contains an account of a bloody fight in Ireland, between the white-boys (so called) and the King's troops, in which 500 were killed on the spot, but whether of the former or latter, our informer could not tell, though he read the number of the officers that were killed in the above battle.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.
We hear that a woman named Elizabeth Knight, who has for some time past lived alone in a small log house, on the road leading from Cooper's Ferry to Mount Holly, and maintained herself by baking and selling cakes, &c. was found murdered in a most barbarous manner last Saturday morning, her house ransacked, and her drawers, &c. all broke open, by some villain or villains who got off undisturbed, and for apprehending of whom the Governor of New-Jersey has offered a reward, of Fifty Pounds. This is said to be the fourth time the above person has been robbed within these four years.

We hear from Dutchess County, that Doctor William Mosher Smith, is in the Jail of that County for passing two Counterfeit New-York Money Bills of the late Emission.

We hear also from Fairfield, that false Dollars of 1760, have lately been discovered passing there.

On the 20th of February last, Mr. Benjamin Withersman, of Rhinebeck, in Dutchess County, was cut for the Stone in the Bladder, by Dr. William Telford, of Hartford, and a large Stone extracted; and, in seven Weeks from the Operation, was healed up well and sound. Rhinebeck, April 13, 1772.

On Tuesday last, the 21st Regiment, or Royal North British Fusiliers, under the Command of Major Southland, was reviewed near this City, by his Excellency General Gage, his Excellency William Tryon, Esq; our Governor, being present, and a great Number of the principal Gentlemen of this Place. The Exercise was continued for several Hours, and exhibited a great Variety of Manoeuvres; and Modes of Attack, Defence, Advance and Retreat, &c. with Evolutions and Movements, suitable to every Occasion in actual Service; all which were performed with surprising Dexterity and Exactness, to the great Delight of every Spectator, but cannot be described, with Justice and Propriety, by a Person not Master of the Subject.—The Notice of every one was particularly attracted by Corporal George Bots, (called the Fugle-man) who stood at a Distance, a little to the Right, and gave the Motions, which he made with inconceivable Vivacity and Gracefulness.

We hear the 1st Division, consisting of 3 Companies of this Regiment, embark To-morrow for Albany, on their Way to Quebec.

Yesterday Morning 3 Companies of the 60th Regiment, or Royal Americans, arrived here from Quebec.

The Boston and Philadelphia Papers which came in too late for this Paper, contain a few Articles of European Intelligence, from the 1st to the 10th of April, by which we find that there seems to be some Truth in the Reports of the Engagement between the King's Forces and the Insurgents in Ireland, the Papers of the 10th of March say, there was a Battle on the 13d, wherein the King's Forces, amounting to 500 Men, were defeated with considerable Loss.— That the Insurgents then amounted to 11,000 men, mostly Protestants, hardly experienced Veterans, both Officers and Privates, and were daily increasing in Number, that 3 Battalions, and 2 Squadrons of heavy Dragoons, under General Gif-bourne, are sent against them, and 2 Regiments designed for America, are to assist in case of Need, so that bloody Work is apprehended.—That in the East-Indies, the English having discovered that the King of Tanjore had enter'd into an Alliance with the French against them, had laid Siege to him in his Capital, and that the English were in a very dangerous Situation in India.—The Poor all over England in the greatest Distress.—That Lord Townsend had declined receiving any Reinforcement from Scotland.—That Col. Keith could get no Access to the King of Denmark, nor certain Account of the Queen, but had spiritedly remonstrated against any Violence to her.—That the Danes are so encouraged against the English, that none of them can walk the Streets in safety.—That the Peace between the Russians and the Turks was still precarious or improbable.—That Lieut. Gen. Lapelles of the 4th Regiment was lately dead.—That Part of the Duke of Gloucester's Baggage was arrived and he daily expected.—That Sir James Lindsay is return'd from India, £100,000 richer than he went.—That the —, Capt. Miller, was killed from Dublin, for New-York.—That a Bill is ordered to be brought in for the Relief of Protestant Dissenters from Subscription to the 30 Articles.—That whole Villages are embarking for America, from Ireland, great Part of which is likely to be depopulated —That Admiral Man was on the 20th of March at Barbados, with the following Ships, viz. 1, 60; 1, 50; 1, 30; 1, 24; 1, 20, and 1 of 14 Guns.—That the Sloop Betty, Freeman, from Jamaica for Boston, laden with Rum and Sugar, was entirely lost, on the 28th Feb. on the Isle of Pines, the People brought into Charles-Town, by Capt. Hunt.
The —, Packet Boat, Capt. Oaks, is this Day to sail with the Mail for Falmouth.

[We have just received the following melancholy Account brought to Town last Night, by one Mr. Richardson, late Mate of the Sloop Sally, Capt. Jesse Hunt, of this Port, who sailed from hence the 29th of April, bound for Charleston, South-Carolina.]

"Capt. John Hunt, in the Sloop Sally, from New-York to Charleston, was cast away the 4th of May, on Cape Look-out Shoals, 10 Leagues from Land,—the Vessel and Cargo entirely lost, with seven Persons, viz. one Sailor, by Name Swane, a young Woman named Trygles, two Children of Mrs. Jacobs, a Jewess that was going for a Nurse for Major Butler, another Woman that was going to her Husband who is a Blacksmith in Charleston, and a Negro boy of the Captain's; the rest of the People, with much Difficulty, got safe to the Shore, fifteen in Number, in the Boat, after being in her fifteen Hours—the Captain was once knocked overboard, but with much Difficulty he was got in."

New-York, May 18, 1772.

To the Printer of the Public Advertiser.

SIR, London, March 26.

THE entrance of Satan into Paradise was hardly more fatal to the human race than that of the arch-traitor Lord B— into the Royal Family; who by perverting the mind, and tainting the principles of one Prince, and causing the others to be totally neglected, laid the foundation of that despotic plan of government which is now advancing with hasty strides to the ruin of this kingdom. Had the present Parliament the public interest and happiness in view instead of their own, they would make this infernal plot against the minds of the Royal Family a matter of the most serious inquiry; and if it should appear that his Majesty's education has been such as tended to alienate his heart from the English subjects, and their excellent laws and constitution; and to lay the foundation of an arbitrary Government; if it should appear that his royal brothers are not naturally deficient in understanding, but that they have been purposely and traitorously kept in ignorance, to render them useless to the State, and to prevent their counteracting the plan of despotism, the whole weight of public vengeance ought to fall on the guilty heads of their governors and tutors; and their partisans and abettors should be branded with indelible infamy; and forever cut off from the confidence of the nation.

JUS HUMANUM.

To the Printer of the Public Advertiser.

SIR, London, March 26.

I AM shocked beyond measure at the intemperance of parliament to the barbarities committed by the servants of the Company in the East-Indies: Barbarities as unparalleled in themselves, as they are unknown in any former period of our history. The name of an Englishman till of late was admired, as comprehending all that was humane and generous, over the whole world: But now it has become more odious in Asia than even that of Spaniard was formerly in Mexico and Peru. I must, however, own, that till of late we were kept in the dark as to facts. It was not the business of the guilty to publish their own crimes; and, I am sorry to say it, the directors at home seem, by their speculations, to wish that the affairs of India may remain in such a situation as to occasion fluctuations in the price of the company's capital stock. There have lately appeared some publications which do honour to their authors as honest men, as well as men of abilities; and I hope the nation will be roused, by the facts produced, to a proper indignation against the perpetrators of oppressions unheard of before in any age or country. Mr. Dow, in his state of Bengal, prefixed to his very elegant and masterly history, has, though I think too favourably to the Company, given facts at which the reader must shudder. "The civil wars," says he, "to which our violent desire of creating Nabobs gave rise, were productive of tragical events. The Country was depopulated by every species of oppression. In the space of 22 years half the great cities in an opulent kingdom were rendered desolate; the most fertile fields in the world were laid waste; and five millions of harmless and industrious people were either expelled or destroyed. Want of food became more fatal than innate barbarism; and men found themselves wading through blood and ruin, when their object was only spoil." And in another place he has the following remarkable reflection: "The distemper of avarice in the extreme, seemed to infect all, whom the wrath of God against a devoted people had placed in power." He also relates, that many of the poor farmers in Bengal "were bound to slaves, and publicly whipped. Their complaints were heard in every square of the capital city; and many of them expired in agonies under the lash.—This, I am told by others, is by no means an exaggeration of Mr. Dow's. Many facts, if possible worse than these, have come to my hands; and I will give them to the public, in order to raise a becoming spirit against ruffians who deserve not the name of men. Yet this company says, that they have a right to torture their slaves."

ZENO.

LONDON.

Gloster, March 16. We hear from Shrewsbury, that at a public entertainment given by Sir W. W. Wynne, at the Raven-Inn in that town, a gentleman, reputed to be worth upwards of £20,000, was detected in stealing silver spoons. Upon searching his house there was found much plate of different kinds, which had been lost at times from public entertainments. He was committed without bail to take his trial at the ensuing assizes for that county.

NEWPORT, May 18.

Last Saturday arrived here, the sloop Hope, Capt. Grinnell, in 18 days from Cape Nicholas Mole.—While Capt. Grinnell lay at the Mole, on the 26th of April, at 12 o'clock at night, after he had cleared out and got all his papers ready for sailing, two Officers from the fort, with their swords drawn, entered the vessel, attended by a soldier, with a musket loaded with a brace of balls, his bayonet fixed, &c. Capt. Grinnell and his people being all asleep, the officers, &c. went into the cabin, and demanded a light immediately, and ordered Capt. Grinnell out of his cabin, and searched the vessel; after which they confined him in goal, and placed a guard aboard the vessel; in the same manner they treated Capt. Estima Davis from Boston, Capt. Brown from New-London, Capt. Tucker from Salem, and Capt. Martin from Philadelphia; and the next day when victuals was sent from the vessels for the Captains, it was not permitted to be given to them, till application had been made to the Governor, respecting the cruelty of depriving them of food.—All the reason for this ill treatment was the Governor's suspecting those vessels had taken in some articles not allowed to be exported; but finding no such articles, the Captains were discharged, after being obliged to give the Governor considerable, and pay the charges of keeping guards on board, &c.

Which are to be sold at the lowest prices, at his store in Queen-Street; near Bursling's Slip, where he gives the best prices for Linen Rags, according to their quality and fineness.

When it is considered that the above paper and other Articles manufactured here, make a clear saving to this country or all the money that would have been sent out to purchase them from abroad, it is hoped that all those who really wish to promote the interest of America, and of this country in particular, with which their own interest is closely connected, will contribute their aid to the success of this undertaking, which cannot be effectually done without a constant care in saving and supplying him with those linen rags, which are generally destroyed or thrown away as useless, tho' they are absolutely necessary to a paper manufactory, which cannot be carried on without them.

To add to the difficulty of procuring a sufficiency of rags, considerable quantities have been collected here and sent to other colonies, whereby their manufactories have been supplied, to the injury of our own, with this material article. And tho' the legislature have not yet thought proper to prohibit the exportation of it, yet it is hoped a due regard to their own interest will incline the inhabitants of this country to supply a manufactory among themselves, preferably to those of another colony.

N. B. Good encouragement will be given to journey-men paper-makers.
